

The Niners

By MARY FIEWEGER

The season is winding down

FIEWEGER

Oh no, we are down to our last two months of our 2023 season. How did it go by so quickly? Well I guess it was because we were having so much fun planning and playing in scrambles and enjoying Tuesday morning golf. It's always fun to check in with Paula Johnson and her crew.

Speaking of scrambles, we just finished our last scramble for the year, "Let's Celebrate the Charbonneau Golden Girls." Leesa Gango again did an excellent job planning a fun event. Putting with a mallet? That got some giggles! Pictures are fun. We heard good news that she will again chair the Scramble Committee for the 2024 Season. Contact her if you would like to be on her committee and plan some fun events.

There are lots of fun events coming this month. The Pink Ball Golf Tournament is Tuesday, Sept. 12. Fun photos and results will be in the October issue as well as the results for monies raised to support cancer research at OHSU.

We are accepting donations until the end of the year. All checks are made out to the OHSU Foundation (Pink Ball on the Memo Line). OHSU will acknowledge your donations, which are tax deductible. Thank you all for your donations and support for cancer research at OHSU!

The OHSU Foundation requested some Niners to support the Platt Electric Golf Tournament at the Reserve course in Aloha. We had a fun day monitoring holes for long drives and for helping golfers spin the 'Advantage Wheel'. Leesa, you need to consider this for a scramble!

There is still time to get Niners Performance tickets for "It's 5:00 O'clock Somewhere." A matinee is scheduled on Wednesday Sept. 27 from 2-5 p.m. On Friday, Sept. 29 and

Saturday, Sept. 30, performances will begin at 6 p.m. This is one last chance to enjoy the 2023 season performance.

Tickets will be sold at the Charbonneau Newcomers Welcome event in the clubhouse on Wednesday, Sept. 6. Still need a ticket? Contact Joanna Sawyer at 503-694-5555.

This year it will be BYOB and you can also bring snacks and decorate your table! Let's get this party started and remember to clap loudly for the skits and cheer on the 'Charbonnettes Dance Team.' They spent many hours practicing.

The season ending Tuesday, Oct. 31 does not mean you need to stop playing. There are events in Charbonneau 'Frost Bite' that welcome players. Speaking of golf on the 31st, 'Halloween,' it would be fun to see some costumes! I can see you now, Judy Williams, Carol Zinsli, Bonnie Bohm, Joyce Bowden, Cathy Loffink and Leesa Gango. No costume? Just wear a mask and let Paula Johnson guess who you are. There may be some treats at the table. What a fun way to end our season.
